

Ewan Sutherland

- Date of birth 28 October 1956
- Age 52
- Nationality British
- Education BSc (Chemistry), University of Glasgow
MSc (Business Information Technology Systems), University of Strathclyde
- Experience Telecommunications policy consultant (2006-)
Visiting Instructor, GSTIT, Addis Ababa (Spring 2006)
Executive Director, International Telecommunications Users Group (1999-2005)
Dean of the Faculty of Arts, University of Wales, Lampeter (1997-99)
Lecturer in Informatics, University of Wales, Lampeter (1992-1999)
Visiting Professorial Lecturer, Georgetown School of Business (Fall 1995)
Lecturer in Management Information Systems, University of Stirling (1989-1992)
Lecturer in Information Technology, European Business School (1988-1989)
Lecturer in Office Information Systems, Polytechnic of Central London (1986-1988)
Researcher in Office Information Systems, The Wolverhampton Polytechnic (1984-1986)
Post-graduate Student, University of Strathclyde (1983-1984)
Executive Assistant, Shearer Brothers Ltd (1980-1983)
Committee Secretary, Medical Defence Union (1979-1980)
- Policy expertise Telecommunications policy frameworks
International mobile roaming
Leased lines and private networks
- Research interests Telecommunications policy
Information society strategies
Strategic management of telecommunications and information technology
- Speaking Regular speaker on telecommunications policy matters, including: International Telecommunication Union, Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development, International Telecommunications Society and a variety of governmental and commercial conferences.
- Writing Articles in a variety of academic and commercial telecommunications magazines.
- Books Information Resources Management (with John Beaumont) Butterworth-Henemann, Oxford, 1992.
Business Strategy and Information Technology (with Yves Morieux) Routledge, London, 1991.